Federal law requires that Nebraska Wesleyan University make "reasonable accommodations" to ensure that persons with disabilities will have equal access to all educational programs, activities, and services. Therefore, Nebraska Wesleyan University, in compliance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), recognizes the university's obligation to make reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities, including intellectual disabilities.

A "reasonable accommodation" is defined as any change in an environment or in the way things are customarily done that (1) enables an individual with a disability to enjoy equal opportunities; and (2) does not fundamentally alter the nature of the activity, service, or program.

A "disabled" person is defined as one who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially affects one or more major life activities or has a record of such an impairment, or is regarded as having such an impairment.

To facilitate plans for any reasonable accommodations, students with disabilities must identify and document their needs following their admission to Nebraska Wesleyan University. It is the responsibility of the student to notify the university of his/her disability; to document the disability; and to request accommodation. For details contact Sandra McBride, Coordinator for Students with Disabilities, 465-2346.
