Policy statement

If a course listed under a student's degree requirements is no longer offered, it will be replaced with a course recommended by the department or program. Any modifications to degree requirements must be submitted by the appropriate major or minor advisor on a Modification of Program Requirements form. These requests must include a rationale from the advisor detailing the need for the program modification and then be approved by the appropriate Dean (Undergraduate or Graduate) and the Assistant Provost for Integrative and Experiential Learning (if major capstone or other Archway Curriculum requirement modification).
