

Title IX Syllabus Statement for Spring 2019

Instructors may reword the statement to fit the voice or tone of the syllabus, provided the modified text contains a statement of the university's commitment to Title IX, the reporting section on faculty members as mandatory reporters, and the resources section on the availability of confidential resources on and off campus for the relevant site (Lincoln/Omaha) and the titleix@nebrwesleyan.edu mail address.

Longer Version of Reporting Text

Title IX Reporting

As an instructor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment on our campus. I also have a reporting responsibility under The Title IX Educational Act of 1972, which prohibits violence, harassment, and discrimination based on sex and gender.

It is my goal that you feel able to share information related to your life experiences in classroom discussions, in your written work, and in our one-one one meetings. I will seek to keep information you share private to the greatest extent possible. However, for the sake of NWU students' safety and welfare, I am required to share information regarding sexual misconduct or information about a crime that may have occurred on NWU's campus with Title IX coordinator or Deputy Title IX Coordinator.

Shorter Version of Reporting Text

Title IX Reporting

The Nebraska Wesleyan community and I seek to create a safe learning environment for our students. This includes promoting freedom from violence, harassment, and discrimination based on sex and gender. For the sake of NWU students' safety and welfare, I am required to share information regarding sexual misconduct or information about a crime that may have occurred on NWU's campus with a campus Title IX Coordinator. Confidential resources and assistance from Title IX are available for all NWU students.
